Sobipro is copyng entries to another slave site

Posted by luds - 2012/05/17 19:32

HI,

Hadn't noticed this before today but one of my slave sites HERE is copying some (but not all) of the entries!

If you go to this section Community Directory on the right of the page Schools and Colleges..that's fine.

Look at the same section on this site HERE then you'll see entries that are from another category on the first site.

They haven't gone over to any other of the slave sites...only the slaves that have had other entries added to the same section.

Any ideas, Edwin?

Cheers

Paul

ok...

It's a cache thing!

Sobipro > System Settings > Global Config > SobiPro Data Accelerator = Disabled.

Seems to ok with JavaScript and CSS Files Cache and JAvascript compression = Enabled.

Why would this be happening, Edwin?

Cheers

Paul

Perhaps that Sobipro is using a cache in its own directory rather than using the joomla cache directory.

This is an hypothesis to verify.

If this is the case, we should search if the Sobipro cache directory can be configured somewhere.
