Hello

Hello

What is the price of the upgrade from version 1.1 to version 1.2?

Do you plan to use external components * to allow billing of the creation of sub-site?

Concerning the upgrade from JMS 1.1.x to 1.2.x, we already sent discount 3 times to existing customer to propose them the possibility to purchase the new version to a lower price

Concerning invoicing system, if they are integrated with VirtueMart that should probably work with the Bridge for JMS.
So investigate solution that are integrated with VirtueMart and that generate the invoice for you.

So if those system generate the invoice once a VirtueMart payment is processed, this should work.
With the JMS bridge, it creates a Shopping cart that is sent to virtuemart and after that, this is virtuemart that is doing its own processing (and potentially the invoicing with the extensino that you mentionned).

A) not seen the message!
Is it a secret B) or we can know the price ?
Is there a specific version 1.3 for joomla 1.6!?

B) sorry :blink: , I did not understand.
We do not want to use Virtuemart as the two products mentioned herein may directly manage a subscription via paypal.
Thank you for responding so OSE or Ambra are compatible ? :huh:

A) When we perform a discount, this is generally a percentage that depends on several factors.

B) As you could already read in our JMS 1.2.x product detail, it is already partially compatibilie with Joomla 1.6. We just know that they are continuing to refactor plenty of things and we can not predict if that will have consequences to create a JMS 1.3.x or just limited fixes.

C) It is not in the intention of JMS to create a similar system to VirtueMart to manage a shopping cart with the ordering, confiruamtion and payments. This is the reason why we redirect to this extension. Directly manage the subscription require to manage the order with their status and plenty of other things that is out of our scope.
If you want to create a bridge with other system, you can do it. This is documented in JMS user manual chapter 4.
