Hi Edwin,

I have a question with regards to the registration page for 1 of my slave sites.

What i want to do is add some pictures to the registration page for this website.  How do i go about copying the registration page only for the particular slave site?

I hope you can help me with this.

Thanks!

What do you mean by registration page.
Do you mean the mod_login module or specific extensin login like virtuemart login or other extensino login.
If this is a template specific login form, you can also create a specific templates directory.

So all depends the specific extension that you are using for the registration page and what it uses for its rendering.
