get different template on each slave website

Posted by pcsudisere - 2010/11/12 01:57

---

hello,
i made a slave website with sync users and some components sync.
it's works great but i don't happen to get different template on each website.
when i change my slave template, it change also my master template, is it normal ?

thanks.

==========

Re: get different template on each slave website

Posted by pcsudisere - 2010/11/12 02:12

---

sorry, it works good now, i can change template on each website.

==========

Re: get different template on each slave website

Posted by pcsudisere - 2010/11/12 02:31

---

i have a new problem, i can't install a new template on my slave site.
i installed the new template on the master, it works when i checked it.
but when i try to install it on the slave website i have a message that i have to install the extension on the master site before (it's what i did).

thanks for your help

==========

Re: get different template on each slave website

Posted by edwin2win - 2010/11/12 08:51

In the JMS Templates definition or slave site definition, add in the "template/themes folder" the value {deploy_dir}/templates

This will allow the slave site install and uninstall templates.

==========

Re: get different template on each slave website

Posted by pcsudisere - 2010/11/12 13:04

---

thanks for the support.

it works.

==========