Presales Questions

Posted by insightcreative - 2011/05/11 21:30

Hi

I have a site which is mostly based on Mosets Tree. We're starting to get into different countries and I've set the site up so that uk.domain.com sets the country that searches are done on to UK. The same for hk. us. fr. and so on.

This works fine but it means that all the other pages are the same.

I want to be able to have an English blog, a French blog, etc. So when someone goes to fr.domain.com they see the French Content and the default country for Mosets searches is france.

Moreover, I want to be able to submit fr.domain.com to Google, etc, to take advantage of that.

Will your product work for this?

Cheers

Andy

==========

Re: Presales Questions

Posted by edwin2win - 2011/05/16 13:07

When you create slave site they are seen by google and other search engine as totally independent.
So if you decide to create a uk.domain.com and fr.domain.com they will be independent.

This is the case of jms2win.com that is a slave site and nowhere you can see it.

So yes, you can do that.

==========