Module sharing

Posted by chtran2005 - 2011/11/22 16:00

Hi

My slave site is the duplication of my master site except for the images and templates.
I know that for the newly installed components, modules and plugs-in on my master site I'm able to choose and install them on my slave site.

My question is when I create a new module in my master site, is it possible to share this newly created module (user created) on my slave site?

Thks,

==========

Re: Module sharing

Posted by edwin2win - 2011/11/23 12:54

The sharing of the content of a module is based on the sharing of the content of the component.
So if the module use data that are shared by the component then the module content is shared.

In your case, I suppose that you need to have the users shared.

==========