Hi,

i searched for migrate but i dodnt find any info....

I have a web server with 1 stand alone web site...
I want to migrate that site into my multisite...

Is this easy???

tools??? backup restore? :-)

Tnx so much..

Eddie

If you just have 1 website, you can install JMS on it and convert it in a master.

After that, when you have a master, you can create other websites.

If, like recommended in tutorial video 0.b (slide 21-24), you want to have a master beside your current website, you can effectivelly move the current site as a non public subdomain that you will use to rebuild your current domain.

If you need backup/restore, we publish in the faq a manual procedure and also provde a shell script that you can be used to perform such backup.
The restore may require a "MySQL root" login.
