number of sites restriction
Posted by hassanali20 - 2009/08/24 11:42

Hi

is there any restriction on number of slave sites creation.

and any licensee for using the component.

==========

Re:number of sites restriction
Posted by edwin2win - 2009/08/24 14:58

NO there is no limit.
When you order JMS, you can create unlimited number of master website and you can also create unlimited number of slave site from the back-end.

The only case where you could have to buy webiste quota is in the case where you activate the "billable wesbite" for the website creation from the front-end.
This is used for the customisation or when you want to sale the website creation to your customers.
Otherwise, stanadard website creation from the front-end is also unlimited.

==========

Re:number of sites restriction
Posted by hassanali20 - 2009/08/24 15:51

Is Mutli site component licensed under GPL ?

My Product is SaaS based and having 100 customers, for one site i am having nearly 300 tables, what will u suggest to use individual database for every customer or one database for all.

==========

Re:number of sites restriction
Posted by edwin2win - 2009/08/24 19:44

YES this is a GNU/GPL license version 2 as documented and also repeated at the end of our user manual.
If you need to install JMS on several master, you are totally free and this is also unlimited.

You can have individual DB and also unique DB.
This is your choice and you may perhaps take in consideration the backup procedure.
Create individual DB with different MySQL user and password may be more secured than use a same

DB for all the customers.

==========

Re:number of sites restriction

Posted by hassanali20 - 2009/08/28 07:33

---

hi.

thanks for you reply.

however i would like to know the following. I guess multisite has a provision to map media folders separate for every slave, i want to know can we restrict slaves from uploading xyz MB of media and later based on the slave site requirement can i keep increasing that limit?

if not is there any way you can built / customize this for us?

regards
hassan ali

==========

Re:number of sites restriction

Posted by edwin2win - 2009/08/28 09:06

Dear Hassan,

At our knowledge, the maxium Upload site is a PHP.ini file parameter that is setup by your hosting provider.
Perhaps you can also add a parameters in the ".htaccess" file to change the default PHP.ini file.
See the parameter "upload_max_filesize" in php.ini

If you want use our billable support to analyse more in detail the possible solutions, this is possible. You can order such billable support at http://www.jms2win.com/download?page=shop.product_details&flypage=flypage.tpl&product_id=35&category_id=1

==========