Remository Sharing

Posted by abaeza - 2009/12/05 14:43

Hi: i wonder if its possible to share into different joomla installations on a main domain and a subdomain the remository component and modules (using the same tables for remository) i mean...we have remository intalled on the master and then create a sharing rule for a "slave" with a different joomla install, but using the same DB and different prefix....well i dunno if i made it clear.

thanks in advance for your help

==========

Re:Remository Sharing

Posted by edwin2win - 2009/12/05 19:23

We will review this extension again to check if it could be possible to share it.
If the pre-analysis is positive, we will prepare an test environment in which we will ask you to check that it is working as you expected before a potential release in JMS.

==========