Set-Up My JMS2Win.... Will Pay For Your time.

Posted by develonet - 2010/06/01 07:37

I am not a very technical guy but am pretty good with Joomla....however, I am looking for someone skilled with JMS to set it up so I can start using it. I have the latest version installed but a lot of the settings and things make no sense to me and I do not have a lot of time to watch videos on how to do it. If you are interested and able, please drop me an email with your rates and when you can start work on it along with an estimated completion time.
Thank you,
Kirk
