Licenses and multi sites requeriments..

Posted by alex.chacon - 2010/08/05 18:26

---

Dear Edwin,
We have purchased a com_multisites_V1.2.34.zip to you, but now we have some questions. We work with three environments: development, testing and production so for us is very important that we could use your component with all characteristics available in each environment, I want to know If we register your component for example in my machine (development), and there will be also possible to register to use with our client server too?
I want to know under what license is distributed JMS component because I found a GPL 2 license in the administrator folder of my JMS component so then I was looking here for the license but I cant find it!
Best regards

==========