new db creation?

Posted by javier011 - 2010/11/21 14:40

Hi,

I have created a new db in my cpanel.
but now i dont see how to put this db while creating a new slave site.

all the db fields (when creating a slave site) are non-writable .

please advice,

Javier

I suppose that you have not selected any template site where is defined the rule for a repliaction.
Once you have selected a website to replicate from the "template site", then you can have access to the "new" DB parameters.

See for example the tutorial video 0.d that present a demo overview and that show for example how to replicate the master website.
