Preventing Redirection to Master

Greetings,

I've created a replication of my master site. The link to the administration section operates as it should; showing the proper page title and address in the address bar. However, on the site, it shows the name of the master, but shows the proper address in the address bar. I'm returned to Joomla 2.5.3 after I noticed a few issues with 2.5.4. I am using goDaddy as my host and have been unable to find the "HTTP" settings that I read about in a few forum posts.

Since the administration section is showing properly could something else be wrong? Thanks for any help in advance.

Site:
www.shogn.net/sites/loe/

The site title is Legends of Etherell, but it's showing SilverHelm Online Game Network, which also shows as it should at www.shogn.net

The title of a website is generally located in the "Global Configuration" but can sometimes modified by the menu in the advanced parameters.
