Site name not appearing in joomla backend

Posted by james2581 - 2012/09/18 02:46

When I set up a slave site it is not putting the title in the admin panel in the backend. It just shows administration. How can I get the title of the slave to appear?

==========

Re: Site name not appearing in joomla backend

Posted by edwin2win - 2012/09/22 09:57

In joomla 1.5, when you login in the back-end of a website, the site name of the website is displayed just beside the joomla logo.

Joomla changed that in Joomla 2.5, the site title is removed.
You just have the site title in the browser title.

You can also see that the back-end login form is changed and the site title is also removed in the joomla 2.5.

In joomla 2.5, you can restore the site title display in the back-end when you go in the "bluestork -detail" template. There, you have a parameter "show site name" that can be enabled. In this case, the site title is displayed in the admin bar.

This might be different with other administrator template.

==========