Some Questions about register JMS Multi Site 1.3

Posted by Mvatoi91 - 2013/01/17 08:59

We have bought Jms Multi Site full edition 1.3. It works very well but we have few questions about it:

1. Can we register JMS Multi Site more than one time? We have two sites, one for demo and one real. Can we register in both sites?

2. Question about synchronize database.

- We create two sites,one master site and one slave site, using the same database with different prefix,and choose sharing Users. In master site, we create a new user, but that user account does not appear in slave sites. Is there any way to synchronize database of user between two sites, when we have update from one site?

- Can we synchronize other object except user(Article for example)?

- If we want create slave sites which want to use the same table in the same database with master site, we use "share the whole site" right? But when we run slave sites, it run the joomla installation. Where we can choose "share the whole site" from other sites?

==========

Re: Some Questions about register JMS Multi Site 1.3

Posted by edwin2win - 2013/01/18 11:10

---

1) As mentioned in the home page, you can install and register JMS an unlimited number of times. So you can create test environment, live environment, ...

2) JMS does NOT provide any synchronization.
The concept of JMS is based on the sharing that avoid duplication of the data and therefore synchronization.

If the users are not displayed automatically in the slave site, this mean that you didn't shared it.
When a user or an extension is shared, it uses the same MySQL table. As the data is unique and stored in a unique MySQL table then all the links to this data is the same.

When you have different data, this simply mean that you didn't shared the data.
Review the procedure in tutorial video 1 that show how to share the users.
http://www.jms2win.com/en/tutorial#jms12x-16

Also use the "JMS Tool" menu to verify the tables and verify if the #__users is a link or a physical table.
When the users are shared, you need a link.

3) You can only share a limited number of extensions.
Review the list of extension that are defined in the JMS Tool and the one that are defined for the sharing.

You can go in the JMS Tool menu and click on help button or go here http://www.jms2win.com/en/list-of-extensions?view=extlist&id=269&Itemid=53

If you want that specific "custom" sharing we can develop a specific plugin with specific sharing with your own risk in terms of consistancy.
You can contact us for an estimate of specific development.

4) Share "whole site" is equivalent to use the same table prefix for 2 differents slave site. In this case, you share effectivelly the whole website as you access the same DB with same prefix. When you define such slave site the Joomla Web Installer is NOT called as you normally described a replication. The joomla web installer is only called when you create a fresh slave site. So verify the JMS Template rule and that you have specified the "template site" that you want to share.

==========