Create a new account for the subdomain in WHM

Posted by Boradan - 2013/07/06 12:33

I have a full reseller WHM/Cpanel account.
Is it possible for JMS2Win to create a new account for created subdomains in WHM rather than simply being a subdomain of the current account?

Doing it this way would give the subdomains their own cpanel account able to access the files ONLY on their subdomain.
Unless anyone knows how to create a restricted cpanel for sub-domains?

==========

Re: Create a new account for the subdomain in WHM

Posted by edwin2win - 2013/07/15 16:48

On WHM, it is possible to configure it to automatically recognize the subdomain.

You have to create a "wildcard" subdomain and use "Virtual Document Root" in apache.
This require to recompile apache to enable this feature.

This is something that we can do in 1 hour of support.

==========