JMS 1.1 - installed & patched, but cannot login
Posted by Spanka - 2009/01/27 01:42

---

Everything seemed to have gone well, following the demo installation v1.1 PDF document.

After the check patches step ran, I was presented with the administrator login screen, as the PDF manual said I would be :)  But when I log in, it simply re-shows the login screen. No errors, no problems, just shows me the admin login page over and over.

Any help would be appreciated.

==========

Re:JMS 1.1 - installed & patched, but cannot login
Posted by edwin2win - 2009/01/28 19:02

---

After investigation, this is a problem relative to Joomla Session that was corrupted due to an indirect call session performed by JMS.
The environment in which it was been revealed is Joomla 1.5.7 with FTP Layer enabled and a very secured server.

The problem is fixed in JMS 1.1.14 to avoid the indirect session call performed during the JMS processing.

==========

Re:JMS 1.1 - installed & patched, but cannot login
Posted by dJeedJee.net - 2009/02/11 11:30

---

Hello,

i got a king of the same problem. I installed the master at domain.com/site

and the slave at domain.com/test

now, when i want to login in at the test/administrator , i get an invalid token from the login-component :-(

I can't figure out how to solve it.

==========

Re:JMS 1.1 - installed & patched, but cannot login
Posted by edwin2win - 2009/02/11 13:14

---

"Invalid Token" is a message returned by Joomla when the session is no more valid (this may happen when you have wait to long on a form)
Can experiment such thing when you go in the administration of your website and you don't enter the login and password immediately but wait several minutes before to try login.

==========

Re:JMS 1.1 - installed & patched, but cannot login

Posted by dJeedJee.net - 2009/02/11 16:37

---

That's not the case. I had two administrators on the same pc active. I found a configuration that works. But in the new situation, when you have two administrators opened and you log out, the other one also gets logged-out.

Another session-thing and can it besolved?

==========

Re:JMS 1.1 - installed & patched, but cannot login

Posted by edwin2win - 2009/02/11 18:22

---

JMS does not touch to the sessions.
This is a Joomla standard processing.
If this is the same domain name, I suppose the session is unique and that could explain why when you log out from one admin, you are also log out from the other one.

Frankly, I don't see solution to that.

==========