

admin access when sharing users

Posted by eubotas - 2010/06/09 14:10

when sharing users, is there a way to limit the access of a slave site to that site? as I see it currently, someone who has admin permissions in a slave site, will also have admin permissions to every other site. I was hoping to have each slave site sharing users and content but each managed by a separate admin. And obviously don't want any of them to have access to my master site.
