Need help, willing to pay
Posted by scotty417 - 2009/04/18 15:50

If someone wants to make a quick $100, I need help installing this software and getting it to work.

Here is what I believe has happened:
1. About a month ago, I installed and got the script working. I have been re-designing my site up until this time.
2. I upgraded multisites, made some mistakes, and Edwin has been very helpful.
3. My original site is santabarbara.builditbids.com. My slave site is ventura.builditbids.com. My problem is that the subdomain ventura.builditbids.com works, but it's as if they're both the same site.
4. Since my original post with Edwin, I have tried every which way possible to see what mistake that I'm making. I now feel like I'm twisted around and don't have my arms wrapped around this project.
5. When I log into ventura.builditbids.com/administrator and log in, I end up at the santabarbara.builditbids.com page.
6. When I click to start a new project, I'm taking from the ventura site to the santabarbara site.

My problem is that I need this done fast.

Thanks in anticipation of whoever would like to get this done for me.

==========

Re:Need help, willing to pay
Posted by edwin2win - 2009/04/18 16:38

We have also billable support that ca be used when you want that we install JMS and configure your server to master with one or serveral slave site configured.
You can order such support on http://www.jms2win.com/download?page=shop.product_details&flypage=flypage.tpl&product_id=35&category_id=1

==========

Re:Need help, willing to pay
Posted by scotty417 - 2009/04/18 18:21

Yes, I'm very willing to do it.
Think I've done so many variations that my head's twisted around.
I have to go out for awhile... What type of information does your company need in order to do this? I can set up a Joomla account, but will need to send you the username and password.

==========

Re:Need help, willing to pay
Posted by edwin2win - 2009/04/18 20:00

I have received your email the information required.
We will continue by email.

==========